RECORD HEAT ENDS TONIGHT

(WE HOPE)

The heat, that is . . . lots of people tried as this picture of Magnolia Park Pool in Levittown shows. Record crowds created a "full house" at every body of water in lower Bucks County. (Courier and Times Photo)

Good News: Cooler Air Moving In

By UNITED PRESS

A wave of cooler air was expected to move into western portions of Pennsylvania today and move rapidly across the state, bringing welcome relief to the heat wave which has gripped the area for the past seven days.

The air mass was expected to move into the west from Ohio this morning accompanied by occasional showers.

Seven Drown

The heat wave already has claimed seven lives through drownings.

The latest of seven drowning victims was Robert F. Dougherty, 38. He lost his life yesterday afternoon while swimming in the Monongahela River. Earlier, Claire Wesneyak, 10, of Hawley, sank in the Old Paupack River near Lake Wallenpaupack in a futile attempt to aid two 8-year-old boys drifting on a makeshift raft.

In Philadelphia, the mercury soared to 96, marking the third straight day that a record was set for the respective dates. It was 98 on Monday, and 100 on Sunday. Additionally, the blistering weather was the seventh day in a row in which the city had 90-plus temperatures, a new mark for a June period.

Welch and Bride-To-Be

Attorney Joseph Welch poses with his bride-to-be, Mrs. Agnes Rodgers Brown, a family friend of long standing, at Boston. Welch, Army counsel for the Army-McCarthy hearings and 1956 Father of the Year, said he and Mrs. Brown have no definite wedding plans but would probably be married some time this summer or fall.

Mercury Tops 90 For 8th Straight Day

There's good news today.

Once we crack the all-time heat mark today with the eighth straight over 90-degree day for the first time in history, showers and cool air are supposed to take over to save sweltering Lower Bucks.

A slight splash last night failed to bring relief but a cool mass zipping to Lower Bucks from Canada will do the job tonight.

96 Yesterday

A record that stood since 1865 was tied yesterday when the mercury whipped up to 96 at 3:15 p.m.

The greatest relief for the heat remained the delicious pools, the cold bath and the whirring sound of an air conditioner.

Water supplies were holding up well in most communities and little trouble was anticipated as the extreme heat cracks a little tomorrow.

Occasional showers are expected to begin falling late this afternoon and continue through most of the night.

Tomorrow's forecast is for fair skies but cooler temperatures. The Weather Bureau at Trenton said there was very little chance the temperature would reach 90 tomorrow.

Humidity High

The mercury had fallen to an all-time low of 73 at 5 a.m. for today's low but the humidity added aggravation by reaching 80 per cent.

At 1 p.m. today the mercury had moved to 90 and the humidity stood at 46 per cent.

Wiretapping Hit In Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—Lawyers for Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa charged today that the government may have built its bribery case against him on illegal wiretapping.

As Hoffa went to trial on charges of trying to bribe a Senate racket investigator, his counsel moved to have government evidence suppressed on wiretapping grounds.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. denied in an affidavit that there was any wiretapping in the Hoffa case.

The defense had subpoenaed Brownell to bring transcripts of wiretapped conversations if any. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Good Evening!

Friedman firm remains in Bristol.

Its plant was demolished by fire, but co-owner Herbert Friedman says that somehow as quickly as possible operations will be resumed. That's good news—good for Bristol, good for Lower Bucks, good for the some 100 employees temporarily out of jobs.

Federal district court bars Girdard trial by Japan.

The decision insists that such handling of the case would violate the GI's constitutional rights. Well, we've been saying it ever since President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles handed this business over to the Japs in an international political play.

And the House passes Ike's Civil Rights bill 286-126.

The measure faces a stiff fight when it reaches the Senate and don't expect too much, considering the southern influence. But what a bright commentary it would be on Congress if it really did as much about Civil Rights as it talks about it.

There they are again! Those Phils tied for second after that 7-6 win over the Cubs yesterday.

Hey, if they take that twin-bill today and then really go after the Braves' scalps they'd be in business for sure. By the way, you notice the Yanks slowly but surely taking over the Whitesox?

Heat? Phooey! Who cares?

Only 96 yesterday and not expected to do much better today and the weatherman's beginning to slip. Storm last night pulled a neat end play, incidentally, on Lower Bucks.

Sign in an Army office in the Pentagon: "Look alive, Remember, you can be replaced by a button."

Father: "No. Every time I try he reminds me he's an exemption on my income tax."

A survey shows that women spend 85 per cent of the consumer dollar. Men and children spend the remaining 50 per cent.

Two Appointed On Board Of Health

The five-member Bucks County Board of Health underwent some changes yesterday when County Commissioner John T. Walsh announced the appointment of two new members and the resignation of another member.

John D. Dougherty, of 328 Cleveland St., Bristol, and Robert D. Quinn, 36 Park Lane, Levittown, were appointed to fill two of the vacancies, with terms running until the second Monday of 1961.

Dougherty, president of the Bristol Borough School Board and chairman of Local 130, Kaiser Metal Products, and Quinn, resident of Levittown, will succeed Dr. Josephine M. Deubler, of Newtown, and Albert B. Thomas, of Fairless Hills, whose terms have expired.

"The Commissioners have not seen fit to reappoint Dr. Deubler and Thomas, but certainly want to thank both members for their services," Commissioner Welsh said.

Commissioner Welsh also announced the resignation of Edward D. Osterhout, of Langhorne, retired business executive who was a general freight agent of the Reading Railroad. Osterhout's successor will be named shortly, Welsh said.

"We want to also thank Mr. Osterhout for his help in organizing the duties of the Bucks County Department of Health and for his fine co-operation," Welsh told newsmen. "We accept the resignation with regrets. I believe it may have been ill health and other reasons that influenced Mr. Osterhout to resign."

None of the appointments on the Board of Health carries a salary.

Bids were opened by the Commissioners for the repair and renovation of the John Stover House in Tintinum Park. The

Youth To Wed Despite Suit

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—A Pennsylvania youth said today he plans to marry his sweetheart in spite of a $500,000 suit filed against her parents by his family.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cummings, Sr. of Wyncote, Pa. Leland Cummings, Jr. 21, said they were trying to break up his forthcoming marriage.

The suit charged that Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Werner, parents of the youth's fiancée, conspired to "entice" Leland Jr. into leaving "The Roman Catholic faith in which he had been reared."

Werner is president of the Wagner Iron Works of Milwaukee. The suit, filed Monday, said

LCA To Again Hold August Pet Parade

The Levittown Civic Association will sponsor the annual Pet Parade, as it has done each year, during the Community-Festival in August, it was announced last night.

Meeting for the last general assembly in the Thomas Jefferson School until the fall, new officers were installed and Henry J. Lotto, past president was presented with the traditional LCA engraved silver tray.

Mr. Lotto, in accepting the tray, said, "I know that the LCA is a very necessary group in this community where residents are in the ambiguous position of be-

64 Saved In U.S. Tanker Collision

BREST, France (UP)—An American and a Greek tanker collided in heavy fog today in the Atlantic "graveyard of ships" off the Brittany coast of France. Both ships burned so fiercely that smoke rose 4,000 feet above the sea.

Radio reports said nine persons were known dead — one on the 10,506-ton U.S. tanker Stony Point and eight on the 9,345-ton Greek ship Ioannis.

Vessels from four nations converged on the crash area radio reports said they had picked up 64 of the 77 crew members of the two vessels. Shipping reports said the American tanker had a crew of 41 and the Greek ship 36.

An American airman who flew an Air Force amphibian over the area said he had received a report that "all survivors" had been picked up, but said he did not know how many were involved.

Capt. Lowell Dibert, of St. Louis Mich. said visibility was so bad the rescue planes could barely see the burning ships. He said the smoke was rising to an altitude of 4,000 feet.

The Stony Point, owned by the U.S. Petroleum Carriers, Inc., of New York, and the Greek tanker collided shortly before 6 a.m. (1 a.m. e.d.t.) 14 miles west of Wissant Island, a rocky speck of land jutting into the turbulent Atlantic 15 miles west of Brest.

U.S., British, French, and German ships rushed into the area where the two badly-burning ships continued to stay afloat although

Blast Furnace Work Delayed By Dispute

Work on a new blast furnace for the airless Works, U. S. Steel Corp., has been delayed by a jurisdictional dispute between the steamfitters and pipefitters.

Groups of workers have been gathering outside the gates of the plant since Friday but apparently no effort was made to prevent plant personnel from entering.

The steamfitters and pipefitters are employed by Arthur G. McKee and Sons, Inc., which is erecting the new blast furnace. A spokesman for the company would not comment on the cause of the dispute. Union representatives were unavailable.

Ike Defends His Civil Rights Program As Moderate, Decent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today defended his civil rights program as a very moderate, decent one.

He told his news conference that he was disappointed that some opponents contended it would destroy their own civil rights. He apparently referred to critics who attacked the House-passed measure on grounds it would deprive persons of trial by jury in certain cases.

Eisenhower said his program was designed with the idea of moderation and not with the idea of persecution of anyone.

He ducked a question about whether he would recommend that Republicans try to keep the Senate in session long enough to break any filibuster by Southern Democrats against the legislation.

In other news conference highlights, Eisenhower:

—Said the Justice Department is studying recent far-reaching Supreme Court decisions on the question of constitutional rights of individuals. He declined to comment on whether he believes the court has gone too far at the expense of law enforcement procedures and investigative functions of Congress. However, he indicated the administration might ask for new legislation to offset parts of the decisions.

—Described the most recent disarmament proposals by the Russians as hopeful signs which deserve the most earnest and energetic study. He said that he would be willing to make some temporary arrangement to suspend nuclear tests, with safeguards as a preliminary step toward general disarmament on a permanent basis.

—Said that there seemed to be a very improved atmosphere about the disarmament negotiations. He preferred not to discuss

Twp. Fire Chases Mom, 2 Children

A Margo Gardens mother and two small children fled their home early today when fire started in their basement.

Units from Third District Fire Co., Edgely No. 1, and all Bristol Borough units answered the alarm at the John Ferro home, Murray St., rear of 4612 Eugene Drive, Bristol Township.

Mrs. Ferro, clad in a housecoat, said she ran to a neighbor's house and phoned in the alarm about 8:45 a.m. when she opened the cellar door and black smoke rolled out. "I could hear sparkling going on inside. I waited no time in calling the engines," she said.

Her own phone was temporarily out of order, she said, when she attempted to call fire units from her own home.

Robert Wiese, captain of the Third District unit, in charge of the blaze, said fire started near a pump in the basement. The blaze apparently started from an overloaded circuit or defective wiring, Capt. Wiese said. Exact cause or damage has been undetermined, he said.

"I'd only been using our phone about five minutes before the fire broke out," Mrs. Ferro said. "We moved here only two weeks ago from the Frankford Arsenal section of Philadelphia," she said.

Church Guild Plans Banquet

The Church Guild of St. Francis Cabrini Church Fairless Hills, will hold an installation banquet at the Buck Hotel tomorrow. Cars will leave the chapel at 6 p.m., and dinner will be served at 7, it has been announced.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. L. James Mullin, Our Lady of Victory Church, Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor of the local church.

Incoming officers include Mrs. James O'Donnell, president; Mrs. John Billy, vice president; Mrs. William Sterling, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Lee, recording secretary; Mrs. Roger Brown, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Donald Gerrity, financial secretary.

Plans for the banquet are under the direction of Mrs. Elliott Russell assisted by Mrs. John Woolley, Mrs. James Rogy, Mrs. Robert McGonegal, Mrs. Steven Hayas, and Mrs. Elmer Cashdollar.

their crews jumped overboard immediately after the disaster.

One radio report said rescue operations had been "hampered by intense heat from both burning vessels."

Another radio report—the only means of communication into the disaster area in the early part of the day—said there had been an explosion. But both vessels stayed afloat into the afternoon.

The tiny German freighter Erik Reckmann, who radioed the first news of the collision, stood up close to the treacherous coast to pick up survivors. It radioed it had 25 survivors from the Ioannis and 25 from the Stony Point.

Another German ship, the 1,710-ton coaster Keitum, reported it had 13 survivors but did not say which ship they came from.

Terrace 1 Residents Protest Prices Set On Home Sales

Seeing Levittown

By LEE GARB

Lucy Schmidt, who shares the title of head librarian, Levittown Library, with Harriette Kneller, reported that a woman came in the other night with a book she'd found on one of the train seats on the Reading Line. . . the book was due in May of 1955.

Library personnel thought it was a really great thing for this stranger to have returned the book, since she admitted that she'd been afraid everyone would think she'd made the story up about finding it.

Those Bristol Township sign-pole painters are really "going by the book" . . . few months ago a sign at the intersection of Bristol-Emile Road and Bristol-Oxford Valley Road was knocked for a "loop" . . . this week it's been given a bright shiny coat of aluminum paint . . . "don't feel badly, even if you are bent 'way over, little sign . . . you're awfully pretty!"

Harry Zurnoff, chairman of recreation, is keeping his fingers crossed these days, hoping that the Tullytown Council will see fit

Occupants of the government-owned Bristol Terrace 1 project are protesting the price set up by the Public Housing Administration for the sale of the homes.

Lenox B. Markley, president of the Bristol Terrace Civic Association, said according to letters sent to residents this week the price of the homes range from $5,900 to $7,800 for single family units and $8,800 to $12,000 for double units.

These prices are a way out of line with those quoted three years ago, Markley said.

He predicted 90 per cent of the occupants who had planned to buy their homes would not pay the government's price.

Markley said he and two other officers of the civic association would leave for Washington, D.C., tonight to protest "this outrage" directly to top officials of the PHA.

He added that if the group doesn't get any satisfaction he would ask the association, at a special meeting, Friday to authorize its attorney to request a court injunction against the government to prevent the sale.

Attorney

The attorney, Walter W. Jackson, of Fairless Hills, is planning to go to Washington with Markley. Others who will go are Benjamin Levitz, first vice president, and Bernard Seilhamer, treasurer.

Three years ago, Markley said, when the government first offered the homes for sale, the prices were $3,700 for a single family unit and $6,000 for a double unit.

In attacking the price increase, Markley said not one improvement was made to the homes during the past three years.

U.S. To Go Directly To High Court

WASHINGTON UP — The government today was expected to bypass the U.S. Court of Appeals and take its appeal in the Girard case directly to the Supreme Court.

A decision already has been made to challenge in a higher court Tuesday's ruling by District Court Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy. He held that the government cannot proceed with its plan to turn GI William S. Girard over to the Japanese for a manslaughter charge but must try Girard before an American military court-martial.

Justice Department officials planned a top-level conference today to decide whether to ask the Supreme Court to assert jurisdiction over the government's appeal. Such a request would be made on grounds that a final decision in the case is important to one phase of U.S. foreign policy.

Background of Case

The government, acting under an agreement with Japan, had decided in the interest of good relations with that country to release Girard, a 21-year-old soldier from Ottawa, Ill., to a Japanese court. He was to stand trial there for killing Naka Sakai, a Japanese woman who was scavenging for scrap metal on a military firing range where Girard was on official guard duty.

But McGarraghy ruled that the government's decision, approved by President Eisenhower, "is illegal and in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States."

He said that since Girard was "acting as a member of the American armed forces in the performance of his official duties as guard" when the shooting occurred, he "is accountable only to the United States federal jurisdiction."

Government officials said that if the Supreme Court upholds this ruling, the United States may be forced to close many vital defense bases overseas.

Mrs. Boyle Gets Post

Mrs. Betty Boyle was seated as treasurer of the Bristol Township Democratic Organization at a recessed meeting held last night in Delhaas High School.

The executive board, consisting of the old officers of the association, voted four to two to seat Mrs. Boyle over Edward Mackafee. The ruling was announced at last night's meeting, by Russell W. Thompson, former chairman.

The results of the treasurer's race was disputed since several ballots were marked improperly. If the improper ballots were counted they would have given the post to Mackafee. The executive board ruled the votes didn't count.

This was a victory for JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely, who was elected chairman at the meeting held June 11. Mrs. Boyle ran on his ticket.

After the ruling of the executive board was announced, Thompson turned the chairmanship over to Dougherty. Dougherty then asked all factions to unite.

He said he wanted harmony in the organization and said any agitators should leave the organization.

It was announced that admission will be gained by presenting the coupon from this week's Elk's Lodge Bulletin.

Easy Modern Living

Gamburg's Furniture Store, Newtown and Hatboro, emphasize comfort at home in their display that will be part of the Neshaminy Businessmen's Association Exposition, opening tomorrow night at Neshaminy High School. Mrs. Jack Orman, of Hatboro, is the model.

Bill Whiton (center) supervisor for the Neshaminy Summer Recreation Program, is flanked by Vance Kyle (left), recreation coordinator, and Gerald Bloom, junior high school principal, as they discuss this year's program which will start July 8. Looking on are assistants who will aid the program.

News Tip On Accident Awarded $5

Mrs. Sylvia Olezak of 180 Lower Orchard Drive, Levittown, wins this week's Courier and Times News Tip Contest with her tip last week on the accident at Red Rose Way and Red Ridge Road.

For Mrs. Olezak's quick action in getting a photographer and reporter on the scene, the News Tip Editor will send the $5 top prize. The move enabled the Courier and Times to come up with a picture and story of a car that went out of control and smashed into the side of a house.

You can have fun and take your chances on winning the weekly $5 prize, too. It's easy. A new contest starts each week. Just call your tip on news, feature or picture idea in to the News Tip Editor at Wndor 5-1000 or Stillwell 8-3325.

The newsgame can be fun and profitable, too. Try it and see.

Neshaminy Readies Recreation Program

Personnel for the Neshaminy Summer Recreation Program has been announced by Bill Whiton, supervisor for the district's playground activities.

Whiton will be assisted by Vance Kyle, coordinator, and General Bloom, Neshaminy Junior High School principal.

The seven-week program will get underway July 8 and continue through Aug. 23.

The summer recreation centers will be located at the following schools with the personnel listed below:

Cherry Street School — Vance Kyle, director, with Dianne Mather and Ann Sacks, assistants.
Hulmeville School — Harold Feaster, director with Audrey Mather, assistant.

Parkland School — Tom Pringle, director with Jeannette Stoop assistant.
Penndel School — Michael Marshalek with Ann Martin, assistant.

Samuel Everitt School — Charles Podlesny, director, with Mary Hoey and Carol Gutgesell, assistants.
Walter Miller School —

them in detail lest he might disturb them. He said it appears negotiators on both sides are sincere at this time and not using the talks as a propaganda sounding board.

Said flatly that Disarmament Ambassador Harold E. Stassen was not reprimanded recently as had been rumored. However, the President said that reports had reached him that Stassen was moving too fast and that he was brought home for consultation to be sure that nothing would be done to upset the delicate negotiations. Eisenhower said the delicate nature of the talks required that no one be allowed to stray off the path.

Supported Defense Mobilization Gordon Gray in his refusal to turn over to senators certain executive department papers in the Idaho Power Co. fast tax write-off case. Unless such a procedure was followed, the President said, there soon would be no coordination in the executive department.

Described his stomach upset last week as a little one and said he regrets such little upsets keep him away from his job.

Objected to the recommendation in the Cordier report on military personnel which would provide for an overall pay increase for all members of the armed services. But he strongly favored the recommendation for increasing the pay and inducement of skilled personnel to stay in the service.

Said he was only making a bit of a wise crack and talking facetiously last week when he suggested at a breakfast for Republican congressmen that the postal service be turned over to a private firm.

When Commissioner Welsh was asked by a newsman, "What's new on the new courthouse," he replied, "The architects are very busy completing the revised plans" and we are looking forward for bids to be ready by the fall."

Commissioner Welsh announced Harold Hellyer, Sr., chief of the Bucks County elections bureau, Oscar A. All Residents Must Pay For Sewer Lines

The Municipal Authority of Morrisville has issued a resolution stating that regardless of whether residents are tied into the borough sewer line or not they will be required to pay rental for the line.

About one-third of the homes in the borough are not yet tied into the sewer line.

Warning Period
The Authority resolution said the rentals will be charged from the day of expiration of a 90-day warning period.

Under the sewer setup of the Authority, sewer lines are mandatory in every home in the borough.

Notices have been sent out that persons not tied in to the line would be given 90 days to do so.

The 90-day warning period has expired in most cases and sewer rentals fees will be charged immediately to home owners, regardless of whether they are in the line or not.

By Board Order
If a person refuses to tie in with the borough sewer line, the line can be installed by order of the Board of Health as a health factor and the home owner charged.

At the end of the 90-day waiting period, the persons not in the line will be charged rental and the line installed by the Authority.

Home owners also will be charged $100 for the cost of installation plus a $1 service charge.

At the latest count, 1500 homes in the borough were tied with the line with about 800 homes not tied in.

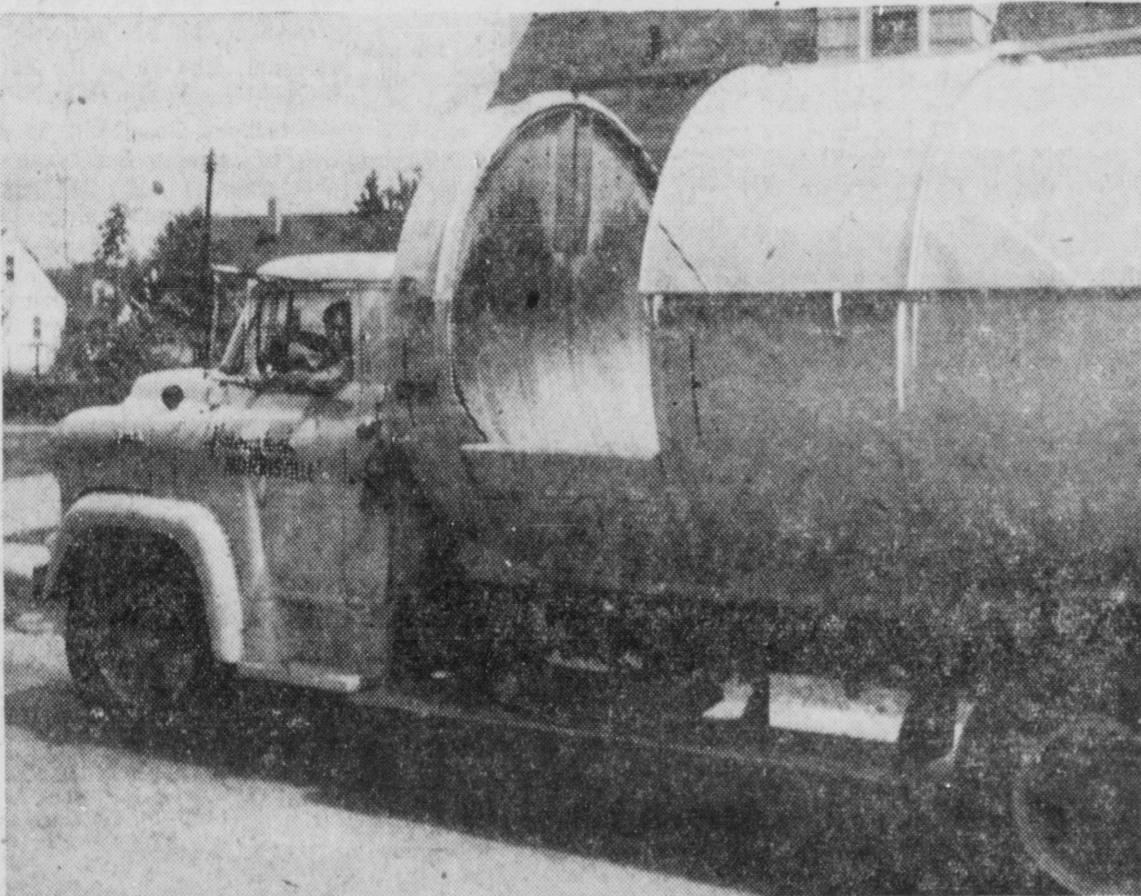

Band School to Start Here On July 1

Amateur musicians will get a chance to learn how to "strike up the band" this summer in a band school starting July 1 at the Morrisville High School.

Horace Hutchison, director of music in the Morrisville schools, will teach the course under the sponsorship of the Morrisville Band Boosters Association.

The school will run through Aug. 9 with all classes set for the music room of the high school. This will be the seventh year of operation of the summer band program.

New Clean-Up Truck

Morrisville's new $9700 sanitation truck was put into service in the borough recently. The new modern truck came all the way from Texas. Exhibiting the machine is the driver, Raymond Kerlin, 31 Bank St., Morrisville. (Courier and Times Photo)

4 VFW Members To Attend Confab

Four members of the Knowles Doyle American Legion Post in Yardley will attend the ninth district convention of the American Legion in Doylestown next month.

Andy Maroney, club spokesman, said the four members, Fred Dougherty, Garrett Hewson, William Neely Sr., and Andy Derrick, will be at the convention starting July 13.

A district commander will be elected at the convention. Officers for the coming year were elected at this week's meeting of the post.

They include Charles Warshak, commander; William Neely, Jr., vice commander; Abe Francis, finance officer; Carl Elfvig, chaplain; Dick Chamberlain, historian; Jack Nolan, Sgt. at arms; and John Hibbs, service officer. Meetings during July and August will be scheduled only once a month. The post will meet the first Monday of the month in July and August at the post home on Yardley Road.

Refrigerator Flares In Morrisville Home

A refrigerator, overworked in the hot weather, overheated last night in a home at 320 West Bridge St., Morrisville.

Chief Frank Cowell of the Union Fire Company said about 50 men from Union and Capitol View Fire Companies were called to the house about 8:30 p.m.

The refrigerator was practically destroyed in the fire but damage to the house was slight, the chief said.

Smoke billowed from the refrigerator and gas from the machine complicated the efforts of the firemen.

It took nearly an hour to clean out the gas and smoke, the chief said.

Church Begins Bible School

Construction of a new Morrisville church, started about a year ago, is about five weeks away from completion.

The Rev. Louis Grilli of the Christian Church of the Apostolic Faith of the Assemblies of God said the new $90,000 building will be completed late next month.

Dedication of the new church, located on Baker and Anderson Sts. in Morrisville, will be scheduled shortly after the building is completed, Rev. Grilli said.

The Reverend Grilli, who has been pastor of the church since 1934, said the new building will be able to serve members of the church better and will also welcome new members.

Auxiliary Dance Set For June 22

The Bensalem V.F.W. Ladies Auxiliary will have a dance June 22, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., at the Post Home, Linden Ave., Oakford. Free cold platters will be served. Music will be provided by the Kris King Combo. Donation is $2. per person.

The next event will be the V.F.W. Post's annual carnival. The place and date will be announced later.

English Tract Decision Set Next Month

Final decision on the annexation of the English tract in Falls Township by the borough of Morrisville has been set for next month.

The borough annexed the property from Falls Township at the request of the owners of the land.

Located just inside the Falls Township line, the property is the home of the toy train manufacturing company, English and Company, West Trenton Ave.

The annexation was protested by the Falls Township Supervisors and the case carried to Bucks County Court.

Final decision on the annexation is set for July 15 after all the arguments have been heard and weighed by the courts.

Borough, Contractor Argue On Surfacing

The resurfacing job in Morrisville hit a snag today when the borough and the sewer contractor disagreed on the condition of several borough streets.

Under the sewer installation contract, the Conduit Foundation Company, builders of part of the line, are supposed to restore the condition of streets to the original surface before installation.

Bob Steward, borough secretary, said that certain streets can not be resurfaced until the borough and the sewer company agree on the previous condition of the streets.

Mr. Steward said the situation is usually one of "give and take."

"Both the borough and the installers of the line make a survey separately as to the condition of the streets."

"Then both parties go over their surveys and decide the up-to-date condition on the streets," the secretary said.

The secretary said the actual work on repairing the streets and getting them into condition for resurfacing is done by the borough.

"We are interested in having the streets put back into shape and the sewer installers pay for the cost if they are responsible for the damage," the secretary said.

Final decision on who pays for what will be made after the sewer installers and the borough representatives meet.

Yardley-Makefield Registration Set

The recreation program registration for Yardley and Lower Makefield is set for tomorrow from 10 a.m. to noon at the Makefield Elementary School.

Mrs. C. A. Baldwin, spokesman for the recreation board, said the program swings into action Monday at the Yardley and Makefield Schools and Pennsbury High School.

The high school program will feature tennis, golf, archery, dancing, wood working, jewelry making and ceramics.

Canteens will also be offered for the junior high schoolers on Tuesday nights and for the high schoolers on Thursday nights at the Yardley Community Center.

Buses will leave from Woodside Road and Dolington Road on the daily route to the schools. The bus route starts at 8:30 a.m. and continues to Letchworth Ave., to River Road and Main St., Yardley to Black Rock Road, Yardley Road, Ferry Road, and Big Oak Road to Pennsbury High School.

Buses will leave from the high school for the Post Road Pool in Morrisville at 10:50 every morning from the three schools.

Teacher Returns To Syrian Post

Miss Helen Cassile concluded her furlough in this country last week when she returned to Aleppo, Syria, where she heads the administration of the American High School for Girls. Miss Cassile, a graduate of Bensalem High School and Maryville College, Tenn., has been in the Syria-Lebanon area since 1945.

She studied the Arabic Language and Islamics at the Newman Institute in Jerusalem. During her first furlough, she studied at Cornell University, preparing for rural work later in Nehatien, a Shiite Moslem town in the Lebanon mountains where she organized a program of extensive education in the town and surrounding villages. In 1953, she returned to Aleppo to take over the administration of the high school. Part of this current furlough was spent at Columbia University Teachers College in the study of educational administration.

Steward to Attend State Borough Session

Bob Steward, Morrisville borough secretary, will attend the meeting this week of the state borough association in Quakertown.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting, Mr. Steward said.
